VENDIDAD SADÉ

L'UN DES LIVRES

DE ZOROASTRE

LITHOGRAPHIÉ

D'APRÈS LE MANUSCRIT ZEND

DE

LA BIBLIOTHÈQUE ROYALE

ET PUBLIÉ

PAR M. E. BURNOUF.

PARIS
DUMONT, RUE DU BATTOIR, 12.
1829. — 1843.

AVERTISSEMENT.

L'ouvrage que termine la présente livraison a été commencé, il y a près de quatorze ans, en janvier 1829. Pendant cet intervalle, les premières livraisons, jusqu'à la neuvième inclusivement, se sont succédé avec régularité ; la dixième seule a été séparée des autres par un si long espace de temps, que l'éditeur doit quelques mots d'explication, pour ne pas dire d'excuse, au petit nombre de personnes qui ont témoigné à cette publication un intérêt bienveillant. Les neuf premières livraisons avaient été exécutées par M. Hippolyte Jouy, qui, par le soin qu'il apportait à ses autographies et par la facilité avec laquelle il imitait les écritures orientales les plus compliquées, s'était, quoique très jeune, fait un nom parmi les écrivains lithographes. Son zèle avait été parfaitement secondé par M. Knecht, et par son successeur, M. de Roissy, dans l'établissement desquels étaient tirées les feuilles calquées sur le manuscrit même. Mais peu de temps après la publication de la neuvième livraison, une mort prématurée enleva M. Jouy à ses travaux. L'éditeur chercha long-temps une plume aussi exercée que la sienne, et surtout un zèle aussi désintéressé. Les tentatives qu'il fit à plusieurs reprises auprès de divers établissements, le découragèrent au point de lui faire craindre de ne pouvoir jamais publier la dixième livraison de ce texte ; car, d'un côté, les essais qu'il avait fait exécuter étaient si fort au dessous des pages écrites par M. Jouy, que l'éditeur n'eût pu, sans un vif regret, terminer un aussi beau volume par plus de cinquante pages très imparfaites ; et, de l'autre, les sacrifices qu'on lui demandait pour cette livraison, égalaient presque ceux qu'avaient exigés le calque et l'impression des neuf autres. Quelque répugnance que l'éditeur éprouve à entrer ici dans des détails personnels, il est cependant obligé de rappeler qu'il avait entrepris cette publication entièrement à ses frais, et que le petit nombre d'exemplaires à l'impression desquels il avait dû se borner (100 exemplaires), était à peine suffisant pour couvrir les frais. Les nouveaux sacrifices qu'on prétendait lui imposer, lui étaient donc devenus impossibles ; et il voyait indéfiniment suspendu l'achèvement de ce volume, quand M. Dumont et M. Racinet s'offrirent à lui, l'un pour faire les frais de cette dixième livraison, l'autre pour exécuter le calque et l'impression lithographiques. C'est à ces bonnes dispositions en faveur d'un ouvrage presque abandonné, que l'éditeur doit d'avoir pu le terminer. Il éprouve une satisfaction véritable à remercier le libraire et le lithographe dont le zèle l'a mis en état de remplir ses engagements envers le public, et il espère qu'on ne trouvera pas les calques de M. Racinet indignes de se placer auprès de ceux de M. Jouy.

Ce volume est la reproduction exacte, obtenue au moyen du procédé dit autographie, du manuscrit zend, côté n° 1, Supplément au Fonds d'Anquetil, qui fait partie de la collection des livres attribués à Zoroastre, rapportée de l'Inde par Anquetil du Perron. Lorsque l'éditeur entreprit de faire connaître le texte d'une partie de ces livres, dont Anquetil avait donné la traduction dans son Zend-Avesta, le caractère zend, gravé sous la direction de feu M. Saint-Martin à l'Imprimerie royale, n'était pas encore commencé. La lithographie était le seul moyen de reproduction qui fût à sa portée, et elle ne lui laissait de choix qu'entre ces deux procédés, ou écrire lui-même le texte zend en l'arrêtant d'une manière critique, ou reproduire exactement un des manuscrits de la Bibliothèque royale. L'éditeur n'hésita pas à préférer le second parti, d'abord parce que son intention était de réserver toutes les observations critiques et explicatives, qui, dans une matière aussi nouvelle, exigeaient des développements considérables, pour le commentaire sur l'une des parties du Vendidad Sadé, le Yaçna, dont il a commencé la publication en 1833 et 1834; ensuite parce que l'emploi du caractère zend, pour l'impression d'un texte aussi étendu, l'eût forcé à des dépenses plus fortes encore que celles de la lithographie. Il ne se repent pas du parti qu'il a pris, car il était d'une importance réelle pour la critique, de montrer les textes zends tels que la tradition des Parses nous les a conservés, avec leurs incorrections, et, on doit ajouter, avec toutes les ressources qu'ils offrent à celui qui entreprend de les rectifier et de les commenter. Il aurait lieu même de s'en féliciter, s'il était vrai que sa publication n'eût pas été sans influence sur celle qui a été faite du même volume, et au moyen du même procédé, par les Parsis de Bombay.

L'éditeur a dit autre part, que le titre de Vendidad était formé des deux mots zends Vidaêva dâta «donné contre les Dêvas ou Démons,» qu'on trouve fréquemment dans ce volume appliqués à Zoroastre. Il a aussi indiqué de combien de parties se compose ce volume qui, sous le titre collectif de Vendidad Sadé, est la réunion de trois compilations distinctes, le Yaçna, ou le sacrifice, le Vispered, ou le recueil des prières adressées à tous les génies, recueil qui a beaucoup d'analogie avec le Yaçna, et enfin le Vendidad proprement dit, ou fragment d'un des livres originaux contenant les préceptes religieux et civils. Le premier chapitre du Yaçna a été expliqué dans le commentaire de l'éditeur sur cet ouvrage même, commentaire où sont également interprétés de nombreux passages du Vendidad et du Vispered. Son plus vif désir serait que l'achèvement d'autres ouvrages, auxquels il s'est vu presque nécessairement entraîné, lui permît de reprendre un travail auquel il doit les moments les plus heureux que lui ait jamais procurés l'étude féconde et pure de la pensée antique.
